Shooting of 'Grudge' in Camp at Gunn

'Grudge' Shooting In Camp at Gunn

By Jack DeLong
Edmonton Bulletin Staff Reporter

Tragedy, believed unleashed by a long-standing "grudge," brought death to two men Monday at the Gunn Provincial Camp for aged unemployables, 50 miles west and north of Edmonton.

Shot to death by a heavy-caliber bullet after an argument in the provincial camp office is Edward E. Henson, 52-year-old manager of the Gunn camp.

Also dead is Henry Deloy, 70, the alleged slayer. Deloy died on admission to University hospital after he had apparently tried to shoot himself, as the injured victim of the shooting was taken to the hospital.

RCPM fixed the time of the shooting at 10:45 a.m.

Deloy had been an inmate of the Gunn camp since 1942.

Henson was in the back as he walked from the camp office down a path leading to his home, only 150 feet to the south.

Official examination of the body revealed the heavy bullet struck the left upper chest, emerging from the lower chest almost in the center of the body.

A Winchester 35-55 repeating rifle is believed to have fired the bullet.

Was Nearing Home

Henson had completed two-thirds of the distance to his home before the bullet sent him crashing to the ground in the center of a small rock garden.

Preliminary investigation seemed to indicate the shot was fired from ambush or by a person following him down the path.

Some time later Deloy was found lying on the lawn near the end of a partially submerged building by a district constable, Joseph Beaudin.

At 4:45 a.m. and almost unconscious was pulled from the hospital by Deloy's wife, who had been with him since he died at 4:45 p.m. just after reaching the Gunn camp.

His wife was unaware, at the time, of the shooting, although it was believed that she was near her home only a few yards from where her husband died. She was informed about an hour after the tragedy.

Patricia Henson, 14, was at school in Gunn when the shooting occurred.

There are two married daughters, Mrs. Frances Macdonald, Corral, and Mrs. Dorothy Elder, Calgary, and one son, James, 17, at home.

Both the wife and son are in the Gunn camp.

Monks at the shooting camp are being kept busy with the bodies of the two men.

It is strange sequel was told Monday morning by Deloy's wife, who had been with him since he died at 4:45 p.m. just after reaching the Gunn camp.

The men were William A. Strong, 74, and G. Bennett.

Sits Huddled in Fear

Strong was in the camp office when Deloy came in carrying a rifle. He fled to a room in the camp office because he was "afraid."

There he huddled with "a few other men" who were sitting on the floor. Almost at once he heard a shot. He slammed the Yale lock door shut and sat huddled in fear as he heard someone try the door. He remained for more than an hour in the camp office afraid to move but emerged after other inmates had been investigated.

Henson was outside near the building when the shot was fired and saw Henson fall. He too was afraid to move.

Government officials said Deloy was told one week ago by Deloy's wife that he was being sent to the camp because he had been "in the way" of the building.

Other camp inmates said Monday Deloy had threatened to "get" Henson.

Police Mum On Assault To Aid Hunt

Chief Gives Reason For Withholding

News From Press

(See Other Story on Page 9)

Information on the brutal attack on a young girl in the Jasper Place district recently was withheld from the press to facilitate police investigation of the crime.

This was the explanation given by Chief of Police Reginald Zeng, who said he had been asked to withhold the information of the attack from the press.

Chief Jennings said a request was made by Inspector H. B. Petheram, chief of detectives, that the information be withheld and he had agreed to that request.

He said Inspector Petheram pointed out that information of the attack in the press would drive the attacker to other parts of the city and make it more difficult to apprehend him.

Mayor Ainsley said the police are investigating a suspect who "re-ides" just outside the city limits.

Since the story broke Monday there have been four complaints of alleged molesting or frightening of women and children in this district (The Bulletin).

Police investigation revealed that a night watchman engaged in police work.

George Bernard Shaw said Prime Minister Stalin had his hands full running Russia's domestic affairs and "obviously couldn't devote more than another imperialist war."

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW ... Stalin dreads war.

Power-shed Toronto investigated and rejected a plan to send the city's 80,000 children to school on Saturday as a possible means of shifting some hydro consumption to the week-ends.

Lying at Freemantle, Australia, at cost of $1,500 a day because of trouble with her crew is the Canadian ship Paparichito Vasilios, a cargo of flour for the United Kingdom.

The Nation

No constructive purpose can be served by hounding comic books, in the opinion of S. L. Robinson, city librarian of Vancouver and treasurer of the Canadian Library Association.

Recent reports charging the government with "falsely" in its handling of the movement of dislocated persons to the United States were branded as "unfounded rumors" by Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell.

China's hard-pressed Nationalist government drew $500,000 from the United States Treasury to pay for American arms—A drop in the bucket compared to the magnitude of the reverses suffered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

On "evidence" that it was going to Palestine with a number of "foreign" clandestine Jews—aboard, Italian police halted the scheduled sailing of a 2,000-ton Italian ship after discovering it was carrying many Jewish refugees.

Religion

"The Church rejects state totalitarianism and the 'superstitious worship of technology,'" said Pope Pius XII.

Trade & Industry

With an uneasy weather eye cocked toward the economic and international future, the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers have been granted a certificate, first of its kind under Canada's new Hull Code, to prosecute the "unfair labor practices" in dismissing five employees.

Officers Warned On Revealing Secret

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—(CP)—In a recent regular talk to officers at army headquarters, the chief of the general staff warned against military matters classified as secret.

La-Ges. Charles Foulkes said security regulations must be observed in times of international tension. It was every officer's responsibility to see that secrets did not leak out inadvertently.

Vice-Chancellor Of Oxford Named

OXFORD, Nov. 2.—(CP)—Colwyn-born Dr. John Lewis, head of Christ Church, Oxford, was installed today as vice-chancellor of Oxford University.

He replaces the late Dr. W. T. S. Ralston, who died in 1947. Dr. Lewis was educated in Toronto. He graduated from Trinity College in 1922 and went to Christ Church College as a Rhodes Scholar.

trouble," said Strong, who was also in the office at the time.

"Mr. Hanson asked Deloy to sit on the desk and talk to be," Strong related.

"I went out to the back part of the camp office, I never spoke to Deloy because I knew he was sore at me."

"He was born here at me for five years and I was scared he would shoot me," Hanson said.

Hanson and Deloy had talked for several minutes. I heard their footstep leaving the office, I don't know who went out first because I was hiding in the back and couldn't see the front of the office.

"In just a moment or so I heard a shot. I rushed to the south window and I saw Deloy's head and part of his gun going around towards the front door of the office."

Britain

Announcement that Jam and marmalade will be taken off the ration list Dec. 2, and that fat, sugar and milk rations will increase, brought cheers to Food Minister Strachey.

Any further substantial increase in defence expenditure would make it necessary to reconsider the advisability of Britain's economic program, said Sir Stafford Cripps.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru in India in the "greatest stride in the world today," says Dr. Stanley Jones, American evangelist, in a book just published.

Scottish-born housewives at Lindsay, Ont., staged a blanket-ruff to raise funds for the defence of Mrs. Jean McAllister, 25-year-old Scottish war-bride, charged with murder in the Sept. 5 gunshot death of her husband.

SEE HAYSON FALL

"I kinda looked at the shot and saw Mr. Hanson fall. I did not see who fired the shot," Bennett said later.

Bennett ran for cover behind a bush overlooking the camp in the hill house where he, too, remained hidden until other officers arrived in the scene a considerable time later.

Police and other investigators alleged that Deloy walked the quarter-mile to the edge of the lake and then out along a half submerged pier for some feet before slipping into the water.

The rifle he carried was later taken from the shallow lakebed by exploring RCMP officers. One shell had been fired and another shell exploded carrying ejected. Other unfired cartridges were still in the weapon magazine.

Police picked up an empty cartridge case a few feet from the victim in the camp office.

FINDS DELOY IN LAKE

Joseph Beaudin, 72-year-old pensioner, living in a one-room shack near the lake, told a Bulletin reporter about finding Deloy struggling in the water soon after the shooting.

Bennett's attention had been attracted by the barking of "Punch," a black Labrador spaniel, owned by Robert Dunne, proprietor of the Gunn Hotel.

Hurrying to the edge of the water, Beaudin found Deloy struggling in water and soft mud bottom of the lake.

"Deloy was waist-deep in the water," he said.

"Help me, help me," the aged Deloy said in a voice scarcely louder than a whisper.

Bennett assisted Deloy from the water. Overcome by the cold water Deloy was unable to speak further.

UNAWARE OF SHOOTING

Beaudin assisted the stricken man to his shack. The former was unaware of the shooting at the time.

He said the shot he attempted to revive Deloy with did not drink and food.

Later with arrival of RCMP from Stony Plain, Deloy was taken to the hotel. There, Mrs. Elsie Caswell, a former British nurse resident, did her best to revive the Man before Smith's ambulance arrived from Edmonton, but he did not know who was in the car.

Deloy died almost immediately after arrival in the University hospital.

ON WAY TO FARM

Beaudin told The Bulletin representative that Deloy Deloy was on his way to a farm in the district where he had obtained a light job of chores.

He also thought Deloy had obtained a job at the University of Edmonton about a week previously.

Beaudin had known Deloy for considerable length of time, he said. Decreased had been an occasional visitor at his shack.

Deloy had been living at Gunn Hotel since he left the camp. S. H. Subert, manager of the provincial welfare department in Edmonton, said he will take the place, temporarily of the slain Hatoon.

"This thing has badly upset the inmates at the camp," he said.

"It will take several days for the men to settle down. It has been a terrifying experience," he added.

EXAMINES BODY

Dr. R. M. Oatway, corner at Stony Plain, examined the body of Hatoon, and then ordered its removal to an Edmonton undertaking establishment by Smith's ambulance.

It is likely that an autopsy will be held today to officially determine cause of death with an inquest at Gunn within the next few days.

Cpl. H. Russell, head of RCMP, Stony Plain detachment and Const. J. B. Pennington, arrived soon after the shooting and conducted the preliminary investigation.

Lat. Det. Sgt. George G. Krause with Cpl. T. B. Richards, photographer and Det. Const. W. J. Peterson arrived from Edmonton and assisted in the investigation.

Chief provincial coroner, Dr. J. W. Bridge of Edmonton, is in charge of arrangements for the autopsy.

Hatoon was described by Gunn village residents as a "very fine fellow, entirely suited to the job of handling the camp of 100 men."

"He was most sympathetic to the men and although there were complaints to settle the camp, Hatoon was in general quite popular with the inmates," Alfred Aldridge, principal Gunn school stated.

late battle of the White House contest.

Also encouraging to the Democrats was the weather. It generally was foggy except for rain and fog in some sections of the midwest and scattered showers in parts of the south.

HEAVY VOTING

Most states reported that early balloting was "heavy" to "very heavy."

In Chicago, officials estimated that 875,308 persons had voted with in three hours after the polls opened. In Missouri—particularly St. Louis and Kansas City—voting was also heavy despite rain.

Utah reported "terrifically heavy" early balloting.

There were large turnouts in industrial areas, reducing the get-out-the-vote drives by organized labor which seeks repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

The day's first complete returns came from Utah's Location, N.H. which gave Dewey 11 votes and Mr. Truman 1. Four years ago this community gave Franklin D. Roosevelt 6, Dewey 4.

First unofficial incomplete returns from three presidential precincts in Charleston, W.Va., gave Dewey 182; Mr. Truman 55.

In Maine the first complete returns came from the tiny community of Pointe aux Barques which gave all 15 of its votes to Dewey.

Brown Farm, Pa., gave Mr. Truman 4 votes; Thurmond 2.

WALLACE PLEA IS TOO LATE

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Several hundred persons took part in a Communist demonstration last night in front of the United States Embassy.

They were protesting the arraignment in New York of 12 American Communist leaders whose trial was again postponed today.

The demonstrators shouted slogans as "Vote for Wallace," "Send the Bombers Home," and "No War For The Yankee Dollar."

highway came up briefly at the National Liberal convention in August, when Trade Minister, Howie, told the delegates the development of such a roadway was part of the government's long-range plan.

The only description of the project was that the government had no details of what the government had in mind.

The Dominion Dominion-provincial tourist conference here adopted a resolution calling for an early start on the highway.

At the moment, there is no through highway from east and west across the country but some roads cross the country and are in poor condition. Generally, Canadians motoring from eastern to western Canada travel part of the way through the United States.

AGAIN

Admiral LEADS THE PARADE

In Vancouver Premier Byron Johnson of British Columbia said that the Dominion government "is going ahead" with its promise to hold a Dominion-provincial conference on the trans-Canada highway.

He said B.C. would register acceptance immediately "if what we've been after all along."

In Edmonton Premier Ernest Manning could not be reached for comment today, but an official of the premier's office said he would certainly be represented at the conference.

Alberta is vitally interested in proposed trans-Canada highway, the spokesman said. The premier but likely make the trip in Ottawa himself, but if not will be represented by the minister of public works.

Mayor Harry Ainlay, president of Trans-Canada Highway Association Vernon Road, said that as representative of that organization will be allowed to attend the meeting.

He said it was his understanding that the conference was being called to set up a federal highway commission and decision as to whether a north or south route will be followed will not be reached.

He said his association would press further for a north highway after the conference.

Vescio's Retrial Appeal Dismissed

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—(BUP)—The Supreme Court of Canada today dismissed an appeal for the retrial of 23-year-old Michael Angelo Vescio of Port Arthur, Ont., who is sentenced to be hanged on Nov. 13 for the murder of a Winnipeg boy.

Vescio was found guilty in 1947 of slaying 13-year-old George Smith in Winnipeg.

The Supreme Court announced its decision to dismiss the appeal this morning. The court had reserved judgment on Oct. 14 after a four-day hearing on a motion for the retrial of Vescio.

Edmonton's Crucial Year

LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENT

By Webster Elmore Philpott

There should be a record civil vote on Wednesday because 1949 is Edmonton's crucial year and upon the calibre and courage and foresight of the aldermen will depend the orderly growth and progress of this city.

There is a feeling that a civil vote which does not result in a majority vote or the submission of unusually interesting bylaws is of little importance.

Actually, the issues involved in this election could not possibly be of greater importance.

For in this election, Edmonton citizens and taxpayers must indicate a choice between an administration bumbling along in the same old weary fashion and an administration fighting every inch of the way for adequate utilities and facilities commensurate with the amazing population growth of the city and the abundance of natural resources in areas served by the city.

They must indicate a choice between the old regime of sabbis and a new regime of action.

This is an election devoted to the enunciation of principles even more than the selection of candidates.

'Happily Ever Afterwards'

A few correspondents have enquired anxiously and perhaps critically why this newspaper has devoted so much space to the case of Kenneth Darling who has now won legal admittance to this country.

The answer is to be found in a definition of news.

News is the story of people.

All the imposing articles about international affairs only have one common denominator as they affect the lives of people. A declaration of war or the signing of a treaty or any vital act of parliament only has importance as it bears on the personal fortunes of all those millions of John Does and Jane Does whose little private lives would take the life of a nation and, added to-

And since there is no provision on the ballot for the writing in of demands for progressive administration, the people of Edmonton can only register that demand in the volume of their votes.

The majority of Edmonton citizens know what they wish in civil administration. They want paved sidewalks and streets and an adequate sewer and water distribution system. They want hotel accommodation. They want town planning. They want things done when they should be done. And, above all, they want an administration that will fight for these things to the last ditch with courage and resourcefulness.

This city is already bursting out of its seams. At the rate the population is growing and will continue to grow, another year of lethargy and inertia will create an impossible situation, with the population hopelessly ahead of facilities to serve it.

The way to protect against this present situation is to register a heavy vote.

A manifestation of lively interest in civic affairs, demonstrated at the polls tomorrow, will be effective warning to the incumbent office that Edmonton is plainly and vociferously demanding action.

A manifestation of lively interest in civic affairs, demonstrated at the polls tomorrow, will be effective warning to the incumbent office that Edmonton is plainly and vociferously demanding action.

gether, compose the history of the world. Now the oldest and commonest and certainly the greatest news story of all time is about the prince and princess who were married and lived happily ever afterwards.

The vicissitudes of two people striving against difficulties to found a home, which is the unit of all society, is the final form of romance. It is the essence of history. It is the ultimate distillation of all news.

That is why the efforts of Kenneth Darling and Eileen Newham to find a happy issue out of all their afflictions are of tremendous interest to everybody.

Their difficulties followed the pattern of all life. Their reunion followed the pattern of all human hope.

Russian Invasion

Editor, Bulletin—Many military men and civilians are giving great attention today to the possibility that Russia will invade Canada and U.S.A. via North America. Without doubt Stalin could do such things. However, Russia has already invaded the U.S.

Russian Communist agents and traitorous Fifth Column citizens, have already poisoned hell, education, legal profession, movies and government bodies.

We have been asleep at the switch and the Russian Red Bear is about to crash into our necks. We must stop for signs of omission and work for the great Commonwealth Kingdom Plan of God, set forth in God's Bible. There is no better way of life. Let us all operate by it!

Greedy Landlords

Editor, Bulletin—Just rent a house built 40 years ago for $2,500. This house was used by my present tenant for a year or so as a residence for 30 years. Since then it has been rented at a rate of $1,000 a month.

In the last 30 years the landlord has spent $10,000 on it. His taxes have been as low as 10 cents a year for all these years. I pay for all the repairs.

Can't See Fuss Over Darling

Editor, Bulletin—I should be greatly disappointed if The Bulletin were to tell me that the Canadian government is so incompetent that they are unable to read X-ray photographs and radiologists' reports and therefore prevent a perfectly fit man such as Darling from entering Canada through the back door.

We Should Enter The Western Union Only If U.S. Does

PHILPOTT

Canada's new minister of External Affairs, Mr. B. Pearson, has a man-on-job on his hands.

To use Canada's job position to get the United States to get out of the Western Union, which is the so-called "Western Union" as a full-fledged member.

Under no condition should Canada become a member of the United States unless the United States also does. To understand what it is all about, we must review the facts.

Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg have all been ready from a limited territorial alliance. They have set up a combined land, sea and air staff under Field Marshal Montgomery. But there are several factors which suggest that as it now stands this alliance is little better than the one which fell apart when Belgium and France surrendered to Hitler.

The chief weakness is that the United States has not yet agreed to enter. Many of her top military leaders make it clear that in event of war with Russia, they would not attempt to hold any part of Western Europe, except possibly Sicily.

The Rector Talks Nonsense

It would be hard to imagine anything more silly than the terms in which the rector of St. Peter's Anglican Church in Ottawa attacks the IODE for endeavoring to have the Red Dean of Canterbury barred from Canada.

The rector, the Reverend J. Gregory Lee, declares the attitude of the IODE is "an abuse of international good will."

The only nation whose international feelings might be hurt through the barring of Dean Hewlett Johnson from Canada would be Soviet Russia. And somehow or other we are not able to work up a great deal of sorrow about that.

Certainly Dr. Johnson does not represent the people.

U.S. Court Sets Red Trial Nov. 15

Communists Charged With Advocating Gov't Overthrow

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Federal Judge Howard R. Medina yesterday granted a final postponement, to Nov. 15, for opening of the trial against 12 American Communist leaders charged with advocating violent overthrow of the government.

Despite angry contentions by defense attorneys that the trial was being pushed at assembly-line speed and in an atmosphere of anti-Communist hysteria, Judge Medina announced that the trial would begin in two weeks and that he would hear it personally.

Harry Sacher, defense attorney, indicated he would protest against Medina hearing the case. He asked a further delay in beginning the trial.

"What's the reason for the speed?" he asked. "This case is being pushed with manufacture airplane speed. Are you afraid the government will be overthrown next Sunday?"

The court brought a heated reply from U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGhee.

ANSWERS QUESTION
"I will answer that question," he said. "I think this indictment states a serious crime. If these charges are true, and I believe they are, I am satisfied the evidence will convince a jury beyond reasonable doubt."

"I think the government will be overthrown by these people if they are given enough time. I believe the case ought to be tried as soon as possible because the security of the nation rests on it. I urge your honor to set Nov. 15 for the trial date."

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—A woe-fy cry has arisen in press agent circles. The moan echoes back from the Hollywood hills and can be heard above the sound of dropped options. It is the reaction of publicists to the news:

"Jane Russell says no more cheesecake."

Yes, Jane, the queen of the leg (see) art, has put her shapely foot down and says she'll do no more posing in airy costumes on leopard skins and haystacks. I hastened out to the San Fernando Valley to confirm the report.

TIRED OF IT
"That's right," the shapely brunette replied. "I had seven years of posing and I'm tired of it."

Ah! Is this because she thinks leg art is deleterious to her acting career?

"No," she replied, tossing my theory to the four winds. "I just think leg art is stupid. When I see other girls posing in shorts for some silly gag, I think it's ridiculous."

Yes, but that's because you're not a male! I ventured. She shrugged the remark into oblivion. Leg art or no, the Russell career is getting a decided uplift. The third film of her career ("Paleface") will be released shortly. She now is playing field

Communists Openly Boast All China Is Their Goal

NANKING, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Chinese Communists called today for quick surrender of Chiang Kai-Shek's beaten armies in Manchuria and openly boasted they would conquer all of China.

Reports from good authority said fighting had ceased within the entire Mukden area. There were no major disorders, this source said, as the triumphant Red forces took over their richest prize of the civil war.

CITY BOMBED
Reports from good authority said fighting had ceased within the entire Mukden area. There were no major disorders, this source said, as the triumphant Red forces took over their richest prize of the civil war.

The impact of Mukden's fall and the disaster to Chiang's armies jarred China. The military setback added heavily to economic instability.

A shake-up of the cabinet of Premier Wen-Hao appeared certain. Price controls with which the government had sought to bolster the new gold yuan currency were abolished, and Shanghai prices jumped 200 to 400 per cent. Wong and his finance minister offered to resign but official sources said no action had been taken.

Mukden's conquerors urged residents, including foreigners, to continue normal activities. The Associated Press correspondent, Spencer Moss, in Peiping, said capture of Mukden from the Communists for a massive assault against North China. Shangkhai, great-wall gateway to this area, is expected to be the next major target. Some Chinese expressed belief, however, the Reds may bypass North China for the time being and attempt to capture Nanking, the government capital.

ODDS SAID 15-1 ON DEWEY VICTORY

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—(AP)—James J. Carroll, betting commissioner, continued today to make Governor Thomas E. Dewey an overwhelming favorite to win the election over President Truman.

Quotations on Dewey remained at 1 to 15, which means that a better must wager $15 on the New Yorker to win $1. Odds on the president are 8 to 1, which means a $1 bet will yield $8 if the Democratic candidate is elected.

Carroll said there was plenty of election eve wagering but declined to give the dollar volume of transactions.

New Antique Shop Pleases Bea Plenty

By Bea Thrifty

I've just spent a wonderful while ohing and aching at the fragile antique glassware, china and brass in a treasure-house of an antique shop.

It's only been there for two weeks or so . . . but I know where I'll spend a nice slice of my time from now on.

I hardly know where to begin. There were so many things to see and tell you about.

For one, a set of dainty, creamy limoges coffee cups . . . at a mere $2.50 per cup.

What was really startling because of the beauty of the design and the amazingly low price . . . was a set of Chinese coffee cups. A rich orangey shade with oriental pattern, they were marked $2.25.

Mid-Victorian elegance and beauty shone in a pale pastel green coffee-love set. A cameo portrait lady in beautiful color added the perfect touch to this cabinet treasure.

The set of cream, sugar, cup and saucer and coffee pitcher will be a good lucky for $8.

I keep a stock of baby food in the cupboard. But not for the usual reason.

My reason is to have a stock of sauces and custards on hand for dessert emergencies.

The purest fruits are wonderful for ice cream or pudding sauces . . . and not to terribly expensive at that.

The custards, with a bit of fruit make husband and self take notice of your clever dessert wiles.

Try this Old I forget this . . . and I certainly didn't mean to. While I was in the antique shop I spent a good ten minutes staring at a chair and fireproof safe . . . fresh from the ancient castle halls of England.

Beautifully lacquered in intricate design, it was finished with mother of pearl inlay.

The fireproof, which could double as a table, when tilted the other way, boasted a mother of pearl castle design and it was the most interesting item I've seen for an age.

Two breathtakingly beautiful Dresden plates, shell-shaped with exquisite floral patterns splashed across them, would be wonderful to have . . . providing you could reserve $27.50 from your harassed budget for the pair.

But they really are lovely.

Well, are you enjoying those treasures, that lettings and most of all the grapes . . . ah-h-h-h.

GINGER FLAKE CAKE
1 cup shortening; 1/2 cup sugar; 1 egg; 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup corn flakes; 1/2 cup sifted flour; 1 teaspoon soda; 1/2 teaspoon ginger; 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon; 1/2 teaspoon cloves; 1/2 cup hot water.

Mix shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add egg and molasses; beat well. Stir in corn flakes which have been crushed into fine crumbs and sifted dry ingredients.

Add water and beat until smooth. Pour into greased baking pan and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 30 to 35 minutes.

Serve 8 servings (8 x 8-inch pan).

Children Can be Taught To Handle Fire Safely

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Fire is eternally fascinating to children. The light, the heat, that implied danger all appeal to their sense of adventure. The small child wants to use matches and turn on gas jets because he sees others do this and he is highly imitative.

Despite all warnings, children do not seem to be able to imagine the danger to themselves, so it remains for a parent to teach the safe way of handling fire rather than to depend entirely upon prohibition of its use.

For the small child who is not little to be educated, to keep the fire-making apparatus out of reach is the one safe plan.

The child of four or five is old enough to learn how to turn on the gas stove and how to use matches. He will use them when he comes into possession of them, so he should know the safe way to manage them.

Let the child use matches usefully in the home. Go with him while he carries out the waste paper and sets fire to it in the incinerator. Let him light the pile of dead leaves to be burned. Suggest that he help daddy light his smokes, whatever they may be. In fact, designate him the fire-maker and call him in from play to attend to his duties.

Lighting matches takes on a different aspect when it becomes a task and not just fun.

If these chores do not satisfy him, give him a whole box of large, kitchen matches—and let him sit on a cement walk with a tin pan beside him and light each one every one.

See that he lights each match, turns it to the very end and then throws it away. Long before he has finished that box he will have had his fill of lighting matches.

Almost all children's fire-lighting springs from an inhibited desire to act as grownups do. Give the child the opportunity, stand by to see that he exhibits caution and he should learn to be as careful as if necessary to be when dealing with this dangerous element.

Our latest No. 73 "How to Manage the Child Wastie" indicates the various ways of dealing with the curious, investigative child. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.
